Linux Foundation Events are where 42,000+ developers and technologists from across the globe meet to share ideas, learn and collaborate to drive innovation.

Open source communities are nearly always virtual and distributed, so when they get together face to face, they can make quick progress on issues big and small. In this way, events help maintain the vibrancy of global open source communities and ensure their long-term sustainability.

Open source is ubiquitous in computing—nearly all leading organizations use it to power their work. To deliver the most innovative products and services to their users and customers, companies must learn directly from the technologists who steer the most widely used and influential projects.

Linux Foundation Events are the meeting place of choice for open source maintainers, developers, architects, infrastructure managers and sysadmins, as well as technologists leading open source program offices, DevRel teams and other critical leadership functions. They are:

- The best place to quickly gain visibility within the open source community and to advance open source development work by forming connections with the people evaluating and creating the next generation of technology.
- A forum to identify software trends early to inform future technology investments.
- The ripest recruiting ground in today's technology landscape.
- The ideal venue to showcase technologies and services to influential open source professionals, media, and analysts around the globe.

The Linux Foundation brings together companies and individual contributors to build the greatest shared technology in history. We provide the events, training, certification, open source best practices and marketing, and necessary to build, scale, and sustain critical open source projects and communities. As the home of over 200 open source projects driving critical technologies, there is no organization better positioned to gather the open source community for important face to face interaction to drive innovation across open source. And, unlike for-profit event management firms, any money generated by our events is channeled back into supporting open source communities to support their growth.

LINUX PLUMBERS CONFERENCE

August 25 - 27, 2020 | Virtual Experience

The Linux Plumbers Conference (LPC) is a developer conference for the open source community.

LPC brings together the top developers working on the “plumbing” of Linux — kernel subsystems, core libraries, windowing systems, etc. — and gives them three days to work together on core design problems. The conference is divided into several working sessions focusing on different “plumbing” topics, as well as a general paper track.

LPC launched in 2008 at the behest of the community and continues to provide a space where developers working in subsystems can come together to solve problems real-time. 500 developers gather annually for this event; the conference is limited to this number of people for maximum collaboration opportunities.

Why sponsor PromCon?

Prometheus is a leading open-source monitoring system and time series database which is used by companies of all sizes for their mission-critical monitoring.

PromCon attracts a crowd of experienced and influential infrastructure engineers, both via in-person attendance and through video recordings that are made available to the public after the conference. Featuring your name and brand in front of this audience will drive the adoption of your products and services in the infrastructure world, as well as present you with potential hiring opportunities! And of course, if your organisation is using Prometheus already, you will benefit directly from helping its community to grow and thrive.

Why sponsor EnvoyCon?

As on the ground microservice practitioners quickly realize, the majority of operational problems that arise when moving to a distributed architecture are ultimately grounded in two areas: networking and observability. It is simply an orders of magnitude larger problem to network and debug a set of intertwined distributed services versus a single monolithic application.

Originally built at Lyft and now a CNCF incubating project, Envoy is a high performance C++ distributed proxy designed for single services and applications, as well as a communication bus and “universal data plane” designed for large microservice “service mesh” architectures. Envoy runs alongside every application and abstracts the network by providing common features in a platform-agnostic manner. When all service traffic in an infrastructure flows via an Envoy data plane, it becomes easy to monitor problem areas via consistent observability, tune overall performance, and add substrate features in a single place.

To give you an idea of the overall buzz in the Envoy proxy we counted:

- 5000+ total GitHub stars across our repositories
- 200+ contributors
- 2500+ pull requests (25+ open)
- 1000+ issues (250+ open)

There are several internet scale companies like Airbnb, Apple, Google, Microsoft, Netflix, Pinterest and Tencent using Envoy, as well as some of the tech world’s most influential movers and shakers:

KubeCon

CloudNativeCon

North America 2020

The Cloud Native Computing Foundation's flagship conference gathers leading technologists from leading open source and cloud native communities to further the education and advancement of cloud native computing.

Kubernetes and other cloud native technologies enable higher velocity software development at a lower cost than traditional infrastructure. Cloud native – orchestrating containers as part of a microservices architecture – is a departure from traditional application design. The Cloud Native Computing Foundation is helping to build a map through this new terrain, and KubeCon + CloudNativeCon is where the community comes together to share their expertise on this formerly uncharted but increasingly popular territory.

KubeCon + CloudNativeCon North America 2020

Boston, USA

November 17 - 20, 2020

12,000+ attendees

We believe in the value of face-to-face events and are looking forward to bringing our community together. However, we are also aware that due to the unprecedented impact of the COVID-19 global pandemic, that might not be possible. Our ability to hold this event in person is contingent on being advised that it is safe to do so by the World Health Organization, Centers for Disease Control, and local authorities. If we determine that it is not safe or advisable to hold this event in-person, we will pivot to a virtual event on the same dates, with the same speakers and sessions, using an online platform that allows for interaction between all event participants, including attendee-to-speaker in keynotes and sessions, attendee-to-attendee in a virtual hallway track, and attendee-to-sponsor in a virtual sponsor showcase.
