Agents Forums

San Francisco | Nashville | New York City | Austin

About the Agents Forums

Agents Forums are a practitioner-led, single-day conference focused on building, deploying, and scaling Agents in real production environments. Brought to you by the Agentic AI Foundation (AAIF), these events gathers engineers, founders, and technical leaders who are actively shipping voice AI into production.

The forums are grounded in a clear thesis: the next phase of AI is not about smarter models - it's about operationalizing agents. Agents are the interface layer where that convergence is happening fastest. Real-time speech, LLM inference, tool orchestration, and low-latency streaming are all colliding. These events exist to share what's working, what's breaking, and what practitioners are actually shipping.

Why Sponsor?

Sponsoring Agents Forums positions your organization at the forefront of the Agents movement. Sponsors benefit from:

- Direct engagement with the builders and practitioners shipping agents into production
- High-value visibility with a technical, decision-making audience driving real adoption
- Thought-leadership opportunities through speaking slots, panels, and curated discussions
- Association with trusted, neutral governance through the Agentic AI Foundation
- Long-term ecosystem alignment as voice AI standards and practices continue to mature

Partner Participation Philosophy

Partners participate as ecosystem contributors, not advertisers. This model prioritizes awareness, credibility, and demand generation — designed around how practitioners actually engage.

Technical Dialogue

Engage on substance. Practitioners respond to real conversations, not pitches.

Direct Interaction

Face-to-face time at the booth, in sessions, and during networking events.

Respect for Trust

Our community is practitioner-built. Authentic partnerships earn lasting credibility.

Relationship Building

Connections that extend beyond the event through the broader AAIF ecosystem.

What to Expect

250+ ATTENDEES — An exclusive, intimate room of senior practitioners

KEYNOTES + LIGHTNING TALKS + PANELS — Individually curated for a practitioner-first audience

EXPOSITION AREA — Tabletops for demos, discussions, and lead capture

ONE TRACK — All attendees share the same focused content stream

TWO HANDS-ON WORKSHOPS — Technical workshops with real skill-building

HIGH-QUALITY RECORDINGS — General sessions will be professionally recorded and distributed

Community & Ecosystem

Agents Forums are part of the broader AAIF events ecosystem. Partnerships extend well beyond a single event:

- Post-event content and amplification through AAIF channels and newsletter
- Ongoing virtual and in-person events across the AAIF 2026 calendar
- Longitudinal relationships with builders, founders, and decision-makers
- A growing global practitioner network aligned around open agentic AI

Content Participation

Content opportunities are limited and curated. All content maintains a neutral, practitioner-first standard:

Lightning Talks (7 min) — focused, demo-forward presentations on what you're building

Panel Participation — moderated discussions on contested, relevant topics

Select Keynote Slots — main-stage talks for major announcements or thought leadership

Program Structure

- Keynotes from builders and system architects
- Panels and debates on contested, timely topics
- Lightning talks focused on implementation details
- Builder booths for hands-on discussion and demand generation
- Ample networking built into the agenda throughout the day
