

Virtual Sponsorship Rules and Regulations

- Sponsor virtual booth location will be determined by sponsorship level and in the order in which the signed sponsorship contracts were received.
- The exhibit hall booth layout is subject to change. Please check back for updates.
- Exhibit Hall booth hours are subject to change and are based on the final conference schedule. Please check the schedule for updates regularly.
- All videos available for viewing in sponsor booths must be free of inappropriate content and is subject to the Linux Foundation Code of Conduct.
- All linked content available in sponsor booths must be compliant with the Linux Foundation Code of Conduct.
- Chat rooms will be monitored to ensure that participants are following the guidelines of the Linux Foundation Code of Conduct.
- Show Management reserves the right to remove anyone from the event if it is determined that your participation or behavior creates a disruption or hinders the event or the enjoyment of the virtual event content by other attendees.

Lead Capture and Use

- The following attendee information will be included in the leads report:
 - First name
 - Last name
 - Job title
 - Job level
 - Job function
 - Company name
 - Email address
 - Physical address incl. country, city, state, zip code/postal code

GDPR & Data Protection Information

All Linux Foundation events are fully GDPR compliant. By registering for this event, each attendee agrees to the following privacy policy:

In order to facilitate networking and business relationships at the event, you may choose to visit a third party's virtual booth. You are never required to visit these third party booths. When visiting a booth (clicking on a third party's logo on a booth icon in the exhibit hall, and any actions within the booth thereafter including viewing resources) the third party will receive some of your registration data. This data includes your First Name, Last Name, Title, Company, Address, Email, Standard Demographics Questions (I.e. Company Size, Job Function, Industry), and details about the resources you interacted within their booth. If you choose to interact with a virtual booth, you are explicitly consenting to receipt and use of such data by the third-party recipients, which will be subject to their own privacy policies.